SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. 25X1X

1. All directors of institutes of the science faculties of the University of Bucharest have received a questionnaire on textbooks used for instruction of students.
2. The directors are requested to supply the names of authors of textbooks presently in use, data on their special fields and faults of the books, such as lack of adaptation to "present needs." Information is requested on the formation of "collectives" to revise these textbooks, persons comprising them, the results of their work and whether Soviet publications have been used in the preparation of each textbook. Similar questions are asked relative to textbooks in preparation. With regard to textbooks now being written directors are especially asked:
 - a. What Soviet publications are being used in their preparations.
 - b. Whether there exists a Soviet textbook that can be used for the particular field of study.
 - c. Whether there is a Soviet textbook that can be easily adapted for use.
 - d. What Soviet studies or textbooks should be translated by the Ministry of Education for each course of study.
3. According to this questionnaire, the purpose of the survey is to "provide a more solid instruction for the students and to enrich their knowledge with the achievements of Soviet science through the use of specially prepared textbooks using Soviet publications as their foundation."
